Introduction

This booklet offers some insight into the power and flexibility of Accurri and it demonstrates how users are able to create financial reports that meet their specific needs and preferences.

The information is presented in two broad categories with the first part being a very small sample of how information could be presented. The sample includes various presentations of primary statements and notes, but still only represents a fraction of what Accurri is capable of producing.

The second part of the booklet provides details on the Accurri software. Its history, what it does and how it does it and answers to some of the most frequently asked questions.

Our guarantee

Accurri is used by many entities and has been used to prepare thousands of statutory financial reports in a wide range of jurisdictions.

We work extremely hard to ensure that the software is easy to use and it exceeds the needs of our most discerning users. As a measure of our confidence in the software and our ability to support it, we offer a 120 day 'no strings attached' refund as follows:

- If the Licensee is dissatisfied, in any way, with Accurri they may cancel the licence. If the cancellation occurs within 120 days of the Commencement Date (i.e. the first 120 days) the full amount of all licence fees paid will be refunded within 14 days into a nominated bank account.

The Licensee is not required to provide a reason for cancellation (although for development purposes we like to know) they just have to advise us via email that they wish to cancel and provide details of the bank account into which they wish the refund to be paid.

Operating profit, EBITDA, etc followed by non-operating expenses within a note or directly on the face of the statement.

Report variables allow users to efficiently control wording throughout a report. Wording changed in a single place flows through the report. As an example 'Operating profit' can be changed to 'EBITDA' by simply changing the text in the relevant field.

Notes to the financial statements
31 December 20YY

Note 1. Significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

New or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations adopted

The company has adopted all of the new or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ('IASB') that are mandatory for the current reporting period.

Any new or amended Accounting Standards or Interpretations that are not yet mandatory have not been early adopted.

Basis of preparation

These general purpose financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ('IFRS'), as appropriate for for-profit oriented entities.

Historical cost convention

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for, where applicable, the revaluation of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income, investment properties, certain classes of property, plant and equipment and derivative financial instruments.

Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the company's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements, are disclosed in note 2.

Foreign currency translation

The financial statements are presented in Internationaland currency units, which is Example Limited's functional and presentation currency.

Foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions are translated into Internationaland currency units using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at financial year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in profit or loss.

Revenue recognition

The company recognises revenue as follows:

Revenue from contracts with customers

Revenue is recognised at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company is expected to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods or services to a customer. For each contract with a customer, the company: identifies the contract with a customer; identifies the performance obligations in the contract; determines the transaction price which takes into account estimates of variable consideration and the time value of money; allocates the transaction price to the separate performance obligations on the basis of the relative stand-alone selling price of each distinct good or service to be delivered; and recognises revenue when or as each performance obligation is satisfied in a manner that depicts the transfer to the customer of the goods or services promised.

Variable consideration within the transaction price, if any, reflects concessions provided to the customer such as discounts, rebates and refunds, any potential bonuses receivable from the customer and any other contingent events. Such estimates are determined using either the 'expected value' or 'most likely amount' method. The measurement of variable consideration is subject to a constraining principle whereby revenue will only be recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur. The measurement constraint continues until the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved. Amounts received that are subject to the constraining principle are recognised as a refund liability.

Sale of goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised at the point in time when the customer obtains control of the goods, which is generally at the time of delivery.

Rendering of services

Revenue from a contract to provide services is recognised over time as the services are rendered based on either a fixed price or an hourly rate.

Interest

Interest revenue is recognised as interest accrues using the effective interest method. This is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset and allocating the interest income over the relevant period using the effective interest rate, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the net carrying amount of the financial asset.

Rent

Rent revenue from investment properties is recognised on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Lease incentives granted are recognised as part of the rental revenue. Contingent rentals are recognised as income in the period when earned.

Accounting policies may be presented as two columns as shown here, or as a single column.

About Accurri

Accurri was first developed in 2004 and it began as an ‘in-house’ tool for Financial Reporting Specialists (FRS - frs.com.au).

FRS was, and continues to be, a leading provider of outsourced statutory financial reporting services. It needed a tool that would assist in automating the financial reporting process, as well as helping address the challenges that would arise from Australia’s 2005 adoption of the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

Despite a global search, FRS were unable to find a tool that did everything they required, to the standard they demanded. FRS solved its problem by developing a tool they called IFRS SYSTEM, and which in time, would become Accurri.

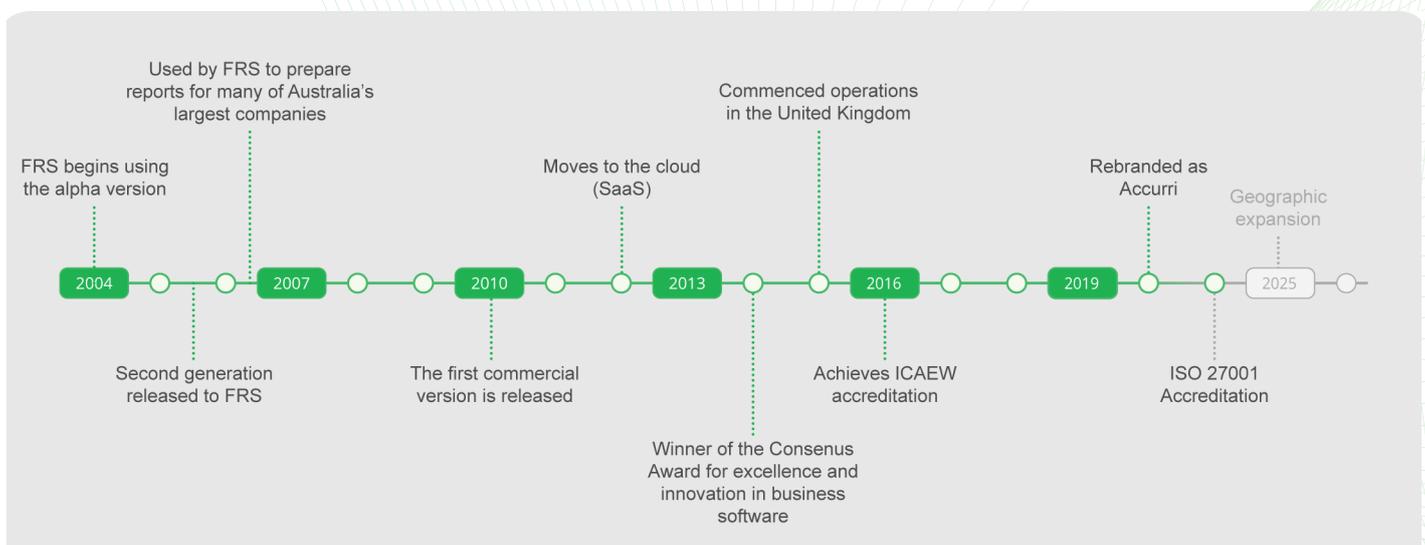

In 2010, the first commercial version of Accurri was released under the ‘IFRS SYSTEM’ brand. This was followed in 2012 with a Software as a Service (SaaS) version, which was quickly adopted by all clients.

In 2020 the software was rebranded as Accurri, in order to free it from the limitations attached to ‘IFRS’ in many of its markets. While it may have started life as an ‘in-house’ tool, Accurri has evolved into a world class statutory financial reporting solution which is now used by, or on behalf of, some of the largest and best-known companies in the world.

We continually release new enhancements, some requested by our users, some driven by changes in the Accounting Standards and some taking advantage of newer and better technology. All were developed to make the financial reporting process easier and more efficient.

We will continue work with our users, auditors, professional bodies and regulators to make sure that we deliver what is needed, when it is needed, and we will continue to aspire to delivering the world’s best statutory financial reporting software.

Accurri timeline of key events

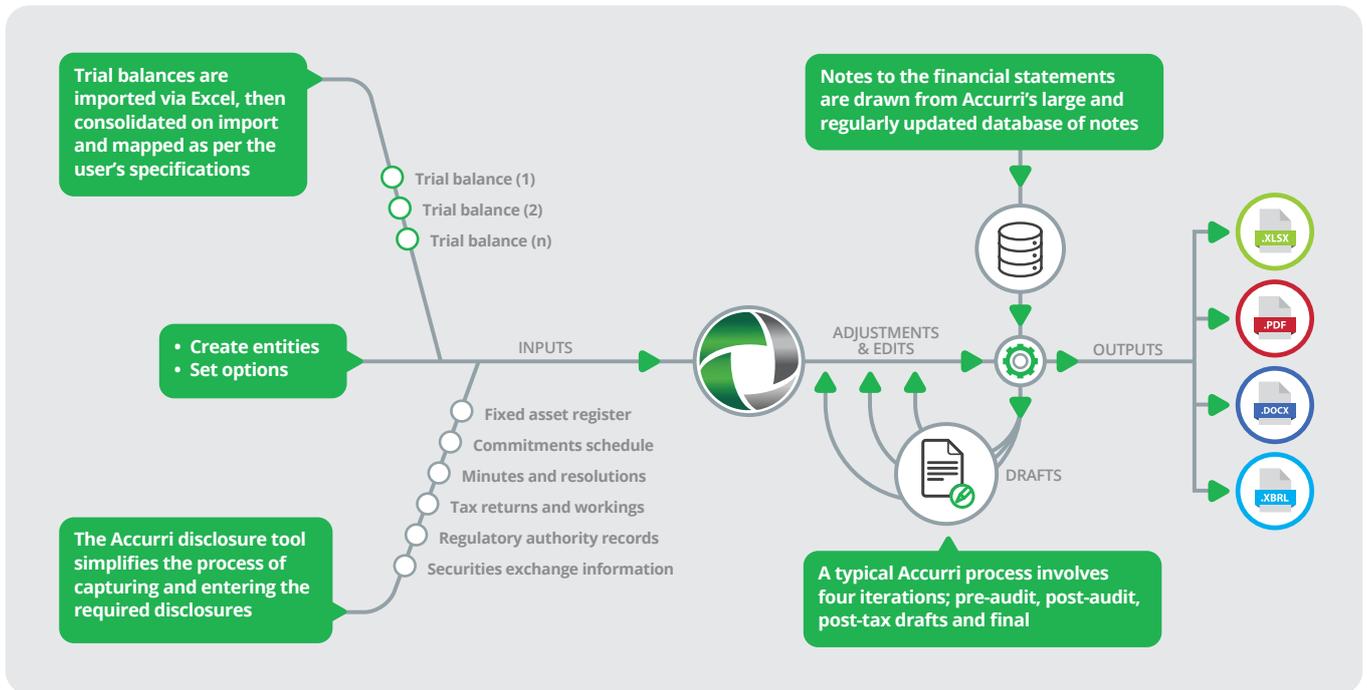

How does it work?

Our software uses ‘artificial intelligence’ to do away with templates and it delivers an easier and more efficient way to prepare distinctive and compliant financial reports. It combines a unique combination of process, technology and content to ensure that users are able to prepare complying statutory financial reports efficiently and with confidence.

Accurri is cloud based software which means there are no lengthy or costly implementation programmes. The intuitive interface and user driven design means that training requirements are minimal.

Developed and maintained by financial reporting experts and shaped by users and auditors, the Accurri software is designed to make statutory financial reporting easier.

More than just a financial report

Accurri is software that effectively automates the preparation of statutory financial statements, and it provides additional outputs to help make the review and audit processes more efficient.

Features include:

- Simple to access and easy to use
- No software set-up or implementation needed
- Training and support included
- No limit, or extra costs, on the number of reports
- Produce unique financial reports
- Create your own templates
- Offers a choice of ways to do most tasks
- Flexible reporting options that are 'set and forget'
- Accepts data from all common general ledgers
- Choice of automated or manual mapping
- Import your own chart of accounts
- Seamless integration with Word and Excel
- Automated balance checks and validations
- Disclosures support and capture tool inbuilt
- Drag and drop to re-order sections or notes
- Universal editing function for report variables
- Import or edit wording as required
- Automated or manual cash flow
- Point and click to create custom tables
- Choice of presentation formats and styles
- Roll forward quickly and easily

Benefits include:

- No more consolidation spreadsheets
- Shorter preparation cycles
- More efficient process
- Greater clarity and transparency of numbers
- Reduced risk of errors and non-compliance
- Support for a more efficient audit process

There are no system implementation or set-up costs as Accurri is a cloud-based product that does not require any system implementation or set-up.

Frequently asked questions

Q Are there any special system requirements?

A There are no special system requirements. Accurri is accessed via a web browser (we recommend Google Chrome). Word and Excel (or equivalents) and a PDF reader are needed to open outputs.

Q I have many trial balances to consolidate, can Accurri help?

A Accurri has many features that will help you take care of consolidations quickly and easily. The system has been tested with more than 150 trial balances in a single consolidation and it passed with flying colours.

Q Can Accurri use our group or company wide chart of accounts?

A Yes, it can use your chart of accounts or third party codes that you might wish to use, simply import them and instruct the system to use those codes.

Q Can Accurri handle complex reporting scenarios?

A Accurri is used by large (and very large) private and public companies and accounting firms, many of which have challenging consolidations, complicated business combinations and specific disclosure requirements to deal with. After almost two decades we are yet to find a scenario that it doesn't cope with.

Q Because of the complexity of our organisation I need to produce accounts under different standards, how will that work in Accurri?

A Accurri will allow you to produce reports or accounts under many standards. Simply select the required jurisdiction and then the required basis of preparation from the drop-down list. If you (or your auditor) want to change the basis of preparation mid process you just re-select from the drop-down list and Accurri will apply all of the appropriate changes saving you many hours of re-work.

Q How can Accurri automatically populate the notes and what if I, or the auditors, want different notes or wording?

A The reporting standards are a set of codified rules that apply when given conditions exist. Accurri analyses the reporting options selected, trial balance(s) and disclosures to determine what conditions apply and based on that analysis, notes are turned on. All notes can be edited or turned off and if preferred, custom notes can be added.

Q I am preparing reports for a number of companies, can I copy information from one report to another to save time?

A Yes. There are a number of ways to copy content from one report to another.

Q My trial balances are in 'US GAAP', will that be a problem?

A It is not a problem. A lot of Accurri clients have US GAAP trial balances, it is simply a matter of importing the 'US GAAP' trial balances and then entering the IFRS adjustments via the adjustments screen.

Q Can more than one user access a report at the same time?

A Yes, Accurri allows multiple users to work on a single report or set of accounts simultaneously.

Q How often do you update Accurri to reflect any changes to the Standards?

A Accurri is updated at least twice a year to ensure that it is applying the latest Standards as at 30 June or 31 December each year.

Q Can I trial Accurri?

A Yes. A 14-day, obligation-free, trial is available. Please contact enquiries@accurri.com to find out more.

Frequently asked questions...

Q Can I change the appearance of the reports?

A Yes. Accurri allows you to add a logo, introduce colour and shading, change fonts and styles as well as introducing graphics and custom tables. The report contents can also be re-ordered and re-sorted.

Q Can I manage individual user access?

A Yes, Accurri allows Administrators or Managers to set individual user rights. An individual's rights determines which tasks they may perform and which data sets they may access.

Q How secure is the system?

A Accurri is secure and uses numerous layers of security and security protocols in order to ensure that client data is protected.

Q Where is my data stored and how safe is it?

A Data is stored in an Amazon Web Services (AWS) data warehouse and depending on your location that could be in Australia or Ireland. Your data is very safe. Accurri uses the same security protocols as those used for internet banking and your data is encrypted to ensure that it cannot be read by unauthorised parties.

Q Can I take a back-up of my data?

A Yes. We encourage all users to make and save copies of their reports or accounts and all related outputs and store them in their own environment. We also advise users to save 'milestone' versions of their work in progress as this provides a quick and easy method of reverting to an earlier point (if ever needed).

Q Can I have customisation?

A We do not offer customisation as part of a standard licence, but we do encourage users to make suggestions and make requests. Many of the enhancements and improvements introduced over the years are the result of such suggestions and requests.

Q How is Accurri priced?

A Accurri is licenced on a Named User annual subscription basis, with prices determined by the type and number of licences required. All pricing information is available at accurri.com/software.

Q Does the licence include training and support?

A Yes.

Q What training is available?

A Training typically includes the completion of an inbuilt self-paced tutorial and two 1-hour interactive online sessions covering essential and advanced features. Total training time is about three hours.

Q What is involved with implementation, how long does it take and is there an implementation cost?

A Accurri is cloud based and no implementation is required. All you need is an internet connection and a browser. As there is no implementation, there is no implementation cost.

Q Is Accurri able to do XBRL tagging, and if it can, is it a manual or automated process?

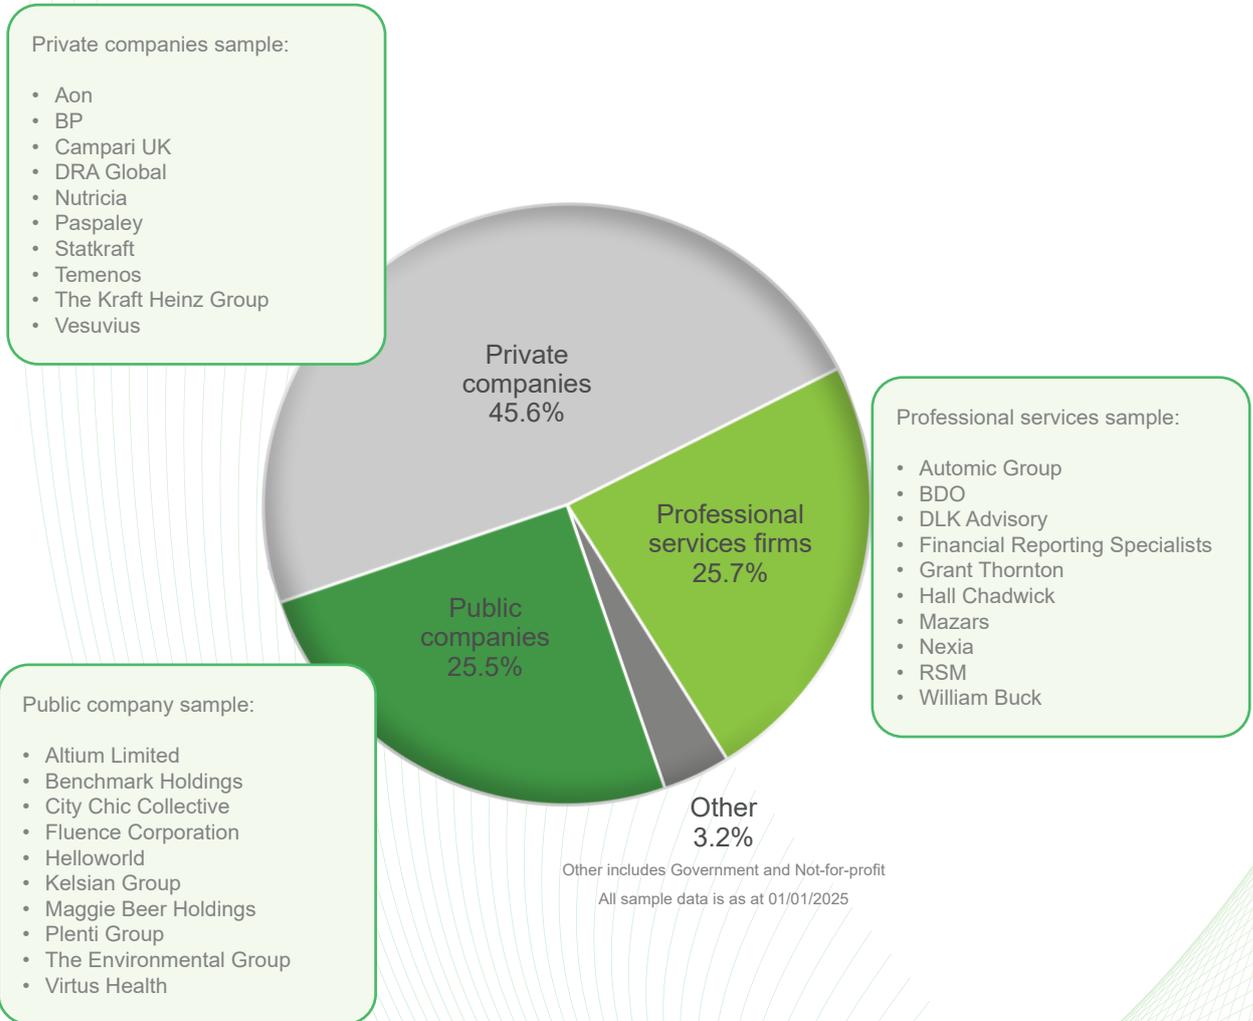

A Accurri does produce XBRL tagged files (where required) and it can do so automatically. Users can add or edit tags as required and then download an XBRL tagged file.

Q What if I am not satisfied with the product?

A We understand that businesses want to manage risk and not commit to technology that may not suit them. For this reason, we offer a 120 day 'no strings attached' money back guarantee. If within 120 days of purchasing Accurri you are in any way dissatisfied with it, let us know and we will refund 100% of licence fees paid.
